The democrats also had a grand rally at [illegible] Hall, addressed by [illegible] A. Sumner and Stephen White, of Los Angeles. The Republican Municipal convention appointed by the county committee, met this evening, and several gentlemen were put in nomination for city and county offices, but no ballots taken.

A great number of flags were displayed at half mast to-day in respect to the memory of the late Matthew [illegible], assistant chief engineer of the fire department, who was killed on Wednesday. The funeral took place to-day and was very large, the cortege being over a mile in length. There were over [illegible] carriages in line.

An Italian Row.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—Last night a row occurred in a restaurant, at No. [illegible] Broadway street, between two Italians, Salvatore Marchi and V. Venturi. Marchi received several stabs and Venturi was shot in the region of the back. The wounds of both men are considered very dangerous and it is thought will terminate fatally. The affair is involved in mystery. The cause of the difficulty is unknown, and officers are unable to determine who was the aggressor, as both men are reticent about the row.

Fire at Sacramento.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 23.—At eleven o'clock this morning a fire broke out in a brick building on the southeast corner of Fourth and I streets. The building is 160 feet front, and was occupied by Chinese merchants and others. The central section of the wall fronting on I street fell outward and carried three men with it to the street. NEVADA.

Comstock Notes.

VIRGINIA, Sept. 23.—Republican primaries were held to-day and delegates favoring Richard Rising for district judge were elected almost without opposition. The small opposition voted was for Hanks for sheriff. William Woodburn, who was up for district judge, this morning published a card of withdrawal. Things political were hot last night, but to-day all was quiet.

Samuel Collier was to-day sentenced to eight months in the state prison, at hard labor, for an assault to do bodily injury. When asked if he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced, he said: "I think you ought to give me a light sentence, for I did not intend to kill Bideman."

The west drift of the Combination shaft is still making rapid progress on the east crosscut on the 250 level of Union for a body of ore 200 feet southeast, the stopes of which were partially prospected some months ago. California has shipped $3934 in bullion and is still extracting ore from croppings. Ophir extracted from croppings 141 tons of ore. Joint Ophir and Mexican winze is within six feet of the 3000 level. At Yellow Jacket the drift and level in Winter's shaft has reached the old west stopes and prospecting has been commenced at that point. During week they have reopened the old sixth station and reached the old stopes east of the shaft and have been extracting 20 tons per day. During the week they have shipped 288 tons to the Brunswick mill. Superintendent Boyle says work will be started in the A in a few days and arrangements be made to connect with Sutro tunnel from the 1930 level. The distance to run is 2130 feet.

CRIMINAL NOTES.

A Broker's Disappearance.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Alonzo Follett, a Wall street broker, alleged to be short in his accounts, had not, up to a late hour, visited his office to-day. His absence filled the street with rumors of such a nature, as to create a decided feeling of alarm among his customers, many of whom called and asked anxiously after him. To all inquiries a response was given that his arrival was expected. The clerk with hesitation said he thought Mr. Follett was in town. The amount of shortage is now placed at not less than $100,000.

Arrested for Manslaughter.

Wm. C. Lowson, telegraph operator on the Harlem road, at 98th street, and Conductor Root and brakeman Robbins, in the wrecked New Haven train, have been arrested. Rowson is only 18 years old, yet he holds the responsible position of managing all the trains of the company that run through the tunnel between 86th and 98th streets, his station being the telegraph office at 98th street. The New Haven Company claims Rowson should have detained the Harlem train until he received a signal from 86th street that the Port Chester train had passed that station.

A Survivor's Tale of the Asia.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Toronto special: Henry Gauvaus, another survivor of the wrecked steamer Asia, reached here this morning and says: "I had my suspicions of the vessel and was very cautious. She was laden so the fore part was thirty feet out of water while the stern sometimes plunged into the lake, and she refused to obey the helm and rolled in the trough of the sea, and every strong puff of wind that came rolled the fore part round until she actually moved as on a pivot. More than a hundred people were on board, half French and half English, all screaming at once as the waves broke over the vessel. The officers could do nothing, their commands being unheeded in the confusion. When it became evident the vessel would go down, Gauvaus, with a life preserver on, jumped into the lake, followed by a woman with a child, who clung to him, and shortly afterward the vessel disappeared. After being two hours in the water he and the lady were taken out by a smuggling vessel and carried to Collingwood. The lady's name is unknown. She appeared wealthy and gave Gauvaus $50 and also money to the smugglers."

RIVERS OF RAIN.

The Far East Deluged by a Tremendous Rainfall.

NEW YORK AND NEW JERSEY SUFFER THE HEAVIEST LOSS.

Bridges Washed Away, Railroads Destroyed, Houses, Stores and Factories Flooded, and Immense Loss Caused.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The storm of wind and rain which began yesterday [illegible] was a very severe one [illegible] reports of [illegible] along the coast [illegible] were [illegible] damaged by [illegible] The rainfall by [illegible] the present time [illegible] and the storm still continues. [illegible] in torrents and many streets in Jersey City and Hoboken are flooded. In the latter city the section known as the Meadow district is completely submerged and residents use rafts to go to and from their homes. The accumulated waters have forced over the low lying districts of Brooklyn and cellars are flooded and damage to property owners heavy.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Sept. 23.—The rainfall here yesterday and to-day is unprecedented. Five inches of rain fell and heavy damage is done in the neighborhood.

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Very heavy rain has fallen continuously since yesterday morning and the river is rising fast.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Severe damage by flood continues. In the town of Cornwall eight or ten bridges were carried away. In Broadway, this city, cellars are flooded. The loss here is very heavy. It is reported serious washouts on this branch of the Erie have taken place, and travel is suspended on the short cut since yesterday. Heavy damage is also reported in Fishkill, Dutchess county. It is raining hard and more serious results are feared.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Sept. 23.—The storm is the heaviest ever known here also for years, and is still raging. Reports from along the Hudson and interior counties tell of road cuttings washed away in every direction. Streams already swollen are rapidly rising. The iron bridge at Verplanck is impassable, and the New York and New England railroad badly washed out. The Hudson river railway track is badly washed from the ferry south. A double watch has been called out along the entire road, and construction work on the west shore is badly damaged in places. Catskill and Saugerties creeks are rising rapidly, and it is feared when the full force of the freshet is felt to-morrow the loss along interior streams will be very heavy. Flood tides on the Hudson are remarkably high.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Millbrook, a stream running through Fordham, Tremont and Morrisania, along the Harlem river, has overflowed its banks and washed away the track, so that travel is suspended. Adjacent lands are covered to a depth of four feet, and a number of families were rescued with difficulty.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Sept. 24.—A gentleman from Wappinger's falls states that fears are entertained that the large dam over Wappinger's creek is breaking, and if so, serious damage to a vast amount of property must result. Gangs of men are on the watch.

In New Jersey.

PATERSON, N. J., Sept. 23.—About 14 inches rain has fallen here since the storm began. Passaic river has risen from 6 to 8 feet and many parts of town are submerged. The Lincoln iron bridge is washed away, and a large number of bridges over small streams in the neighboring country are swept away. Martin Rasselar, an old man, was washed into the river this morning while driving, and with his horse and vehicle carried over Passaic falls.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Sept. 23.—It has rained here the last three days. Many cellars are full of water. The Delaware river is rapidly rising, and it is thought to-morrow at high tide docks and piers will be inundated.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Sept. 23.—The heavy embankment along the railroad which crosses underneath Main street at this place has caved in on account of rains, and no trains can pass here. This exceeds all rains for years in this section. Another washout has occurred between this place and Burlington, and no trains have arrived. It is feared serious results will follow in this direction.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Sept. 24.—At a washout a few miles from here on the Pennsylvania Railroad, the engine was overturned with a number of passenger cars and righted. A wall built in 1831 went down last night.

At Jersey City.

JERSEY CITY, Sept. 23.—The heavy rain has caused a total suspension of through trains on the Pennsylvania and New York, and Lake Erie and Western roads. Express trains on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Central New Jersey companies were delayed three to four hours. An official of the Pennsylvania company stated to-night that he did not believe it would be possible to run trains between Jersey City and Philadelphia before to-morrow evening. The stoppage of local trains between Jersey City and Newark has caused great inconvenience. Some passengers are bunked in the depot for the night, while others had sought various hotels in the vicinity. Reports of washouts come from all directions. That portion of Jersey City at the foot of the hill is inundated several feet, and the cells of the city prison flooded with two feet of water by the bursting of Gregory street sewer. The prisoners confined there were removed to another precinct.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Sept. 24.—Immense damage is caused in Hudson county, N. J. Entire sections of Jersey and Hoboken are inundated and cellars and basements flooded, the inhabitants taking refuge on the upper floors. Jersey avenue's wooden pavement was hurled into the mouth of sewers, completely choking them, and waters backing swept into houses, destroying carpets, etc. Morris canal overflowed and tow paths were washed out. A section of one of the main sewers, 28 by 6 feet, was lifted bodily out of place and rushing waters dashed into the air 30 feet. Dwellers on the meadows were rescued by boats and rafts. In Weehawken the lock up was flooded to a depth of three feet and the macadamized road ruined for a distance of a mile and a half. Water mains and reservoirs are greatly damaged and the new tunnel of the N. Y., Ontario and W. R. R., damaged between $80,000 and $100,000.

The western outlet of the tunnel opens into an open cut about three-quarters of a mile long, with walls 65 feet high, which gave way and an immense amount of sand and rocks swept into the cut. Two large steam shovels and about 16 gravel cars were buried out of sight, and a construction train covered with rock and sand to a depth of six feet. After the land slide a blacksmith shop and boiler room tumbled into the cut. A number of shafts are partially flooded, and it will take two months to repair the damage. A washout of 1000 feet is reported on the short city railway between Rutherford and Saddle river, a large force of men and two construction trains were at work all day repairing the damage. A washout of twenty feet occurred near Hackensack bridge, and another washout on the Northern railroad. One milk train is 24 hours late, and another did not arrive at all. All railroads will have all trains running regularly to-morrow.

Damages by Floods at Plainfield.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Sept. 23.—It has been raining continuously for 18 hours and streams are much swollen, streets full of water and damage to property heavy. At 1:30 the Grove street bridge over Green brook, in this city, suddenly gave way while crowded with people watching the flood. Six people were rescued, but a number are believed to have perished. Both dams at Scotch Plains washed out and water is four feet deep in the streets of the village.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Sept. 24.—French's dam, the last dam but one remaining at Greenbrook in this city, gave away at 10 o'clock last night. The flood then carried away two frame buildings at Somerset street, a large hole was washed through French's four story carriage works. The remaining arches on Grove street bridge were swept away, as well as most of the other bridges between the city and Greenbrook. Three stone bridges on Cedar brook were demolished and two overflowed, cutting off communication with a large part of the city. Fred Moore, a boy, was lost off one of the bridges. Stoney brook by its overflow destroyed a large section of Somerset street through a notch, cutting off the only thoroughfare for people of Washington valley. Bound brook rose suddenly, flowing ten feet deep through the main street, lined on both sides with stores. The water rose over show cases, and a large amount of goods were ruined. In Ramsie the water was almost to the top of the bar and one family was rescued from a house by a boat. Elon Park hotel was submerged nearly to the roof. At Eindeln's woolen mills the water rose over looms. It will take a month to get the mills in operation, and 200 operatives are thus idle. The Lehigh valley railroad bridge and a long stretch of track was washed away. The Central railroad of New Jersey was overflowed to a depth of three feet. The depot platforms were washed away; the banks of the Delaware and Raritan canal gave way, and the river and canal became one stream. One lock was destroyed, water overtopped the Western Union switch board, and some poles were prostrated. The flood is the highest ever known. Bound brook is nearly three feet higher than that of July 16, 1865, which was the greatest previously recorded. More loss is suffered by Bound brook people from the flood than by the fire which destroyed the greater part of the town some months ago.

At Trenton.

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 24.—The freshet here has caused damage of about $200,000. Assanpink creek overflowed forming a lake about a mile long and 600 yards wide. The torrent rushed to the Delaware river, causing great havoc on the way. Rubber mills, potteries, factories, slaughter houses, ice houses, dwellings, barns, stables, outhouses and sheds, were submerged and many carried off, railroad tracks, depots and bridges washed away and travel interrupted. Small boats sailed around the main depots and cars are submerged to the windows. Wm. Christopher, aged 17 years, was drowned.

In Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24.—Nearly eleven inches of rain has fallen here within the past seventy-two hours. Washouts are reported along railroad lines. [illegible] on the Pennsylvania railroad and 500 passengers were brought to this city by boat from New York [illegible] from Bristol. Breaks in the sewers of the city have been numerous and serious, and street car travel is hindered. A large tract below the city is under water, and farmers here will suffer a heavy loss.

At Bedington the storm was the severest known for years. Some live stock is reported drowned in the rapidly swelling stream and many haystacks were swept away.

At Newtown several buildings were washed away, and four men were rescued from trees.

In Massachusetts.

NORTH ADAMS, Sept. 24.—Continuous rains the last three days threaten destruction to many buildings on the Hoosac river. [illegible] of the North Pownall mill was [illegible] away.

The Canal Question.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—A Paris dispatch to the Times says certain directors of the Suez canal have taken alarm at the view expressed by the Times in an article on the Suez canal, and in order to dispel any anxiety in regard to England's starting a second canal they seem inclined to an understanding which would give England full satisfaction and perfect security for the future while guarding the general interests at stake. This will probably be the way in which it is settled.

A Change in Grand Sheriffs.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 24.—It is officially announced from Jeddah that the grand sheriff of Mecca has been deposed and imprisoned at Taiffe, where Midhat Pasha is a prisoner, and Abdallah El Bryam has been named grand sheriff. Scenes on the March.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 23.—Gen. Wood, on the march to Damietta, reached Chirabas last evening, and was to remain until 3 o'clock A. M. The railway was blocked by deserters from Abdallah's command. Gen. THE TURF.

Coney Island Races.

CONEY ISLAND, Sept. 23.—Fourth race—Four mile heats: W. Bush Whisker first, Glenore second, Lidda Stanhope last. Time—8:01¾, 8:10.

Fifth race—One and three-eighths miles: Warfield first, Bootjack second, Geo. McCullough third. Time—2:28.

Steeple-chase—Inside course: Kitty Clark first. Annett second, Buck fell; lost place. Time—5:33¾.

The track is deep with mud and water, and races were run in the heaviest storm of the season.

One mile—Little Minch first, Aunigisa second, Circassia third; time, 1:57¾.

One and one-quarter miles—Ballast one, Springfield 2, Brunswick 3; time, 2:15½.

One mile—Little Fred 1, Little Phil 2, Topsey 3d; time, 1:45¼.

Chicago Races.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Sixth day of the Chicago fair. Weather cool, track good, and attendance large. The sensational feature of the day was the race between J. I. Case's noted four-year-old black stallion Jay Eye See, and H. D. McKinney's fast four-year-old bay mare, Bronze. The result was rather startling, as the black colt beat the best four-year-old record twice in succession by three-quarters of a second, that honor having been heretofore held by Trinkett who trotted at four years in 2:19½.

Summaries of to-day's race, free-for-all pacers:

Buffalo Girl	1	1	1
Gem	4	2	2
Lucy	5	3	3
Flora Belle	3	5	4
Mattie Hunter	2	4	Dis.

Time: 2:17, 2:15¼, 2:16¼.

Special four-year-old race:

Jay Eye See	1	2	1	1
Bronze	2	1	2	2

Time—2:22¾, 2:20½, 2:19, 2:19. The last half of the last heat was trotted in 1:08.

Louisville Races.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 23.—Weather pleasant and track and crowd good.

Mile heats—Fox Gatherer won, Major Hughes second, Maddie Rapture third. Time 1:46½, 1:46.

Mile and six-tenths—Apollo won, Freeland second, John Sullivan third. Time 1:57¾.

Three-fourths mile—Bilionis won, Scalper and Ascetic a dead heat for second. Time 119.

The one and a quarter mile race was won by Farragut, John Davis second, Wedding Day third. Time 2:11¼.

The one mile race was won by Fellow Play, Force second, Mary Corbett third. Time—1:44¾.

Stockton Races.

STOCKTON, Sept. 23.—The first event was a trot for the 2:28 class, Sweetness, Albert W. and Nellie R. starting.

First heat—Nellie won with ease, Sweetness second. Time—2:24¼.

Second heat was close between Sweetness and Nellie. The latter won the heat, Sweetness second. Time—2:25.

Third heat—Nellie R. led to the quarter pole, but up the stretch Albert came to the front with a rush, winning; Nellie second. Time 2:22.

It was now conceded that it was Albert's race, and he verified this judgment by winning the next two heats. Time—2:22, 2:22½.

The next race was a private match, running, three and a quarter mile dash, between D. S. Ferris' Lara, and J. H. Williams' Ira Bryant. Lara won in a close finish. Time 1:19.

The pacing mare Corrinne was speeded around the track and paced a mile in 2:17, the fastest pacing time ever made in the state and the fastest ever driven over the Stockton track.

The last race of the meeting was a free-for-all pace. Oneida, Oakland Boy, Daddy Hayes and Dr. Dickey started. The race was slow and unsatisfactory. Dickey won the first heat, and Oneida won the second and third heats. Time—2:25, 2:20, 2:20. Dickey won the fourth heat. Time 2:22. The fifth heat was a dead heat between Oneida and Dickey. Time [illegible]. The finish of the race was postponed till Monday.

LONDON LETTERS.

The European Situation Growing more Desperate—France Irritated, Russia Arming, and Italy Anxious to Have a Finger in the Pie.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The Tribune's London special: The trades' congress has just concluded its annual session in Manchester. The congress was pronounced in favor of the nationalization of the land. The doctrine promulgated by Mr. George was taken up by Davitt and [illegible] by Parnell. Davitt is shortly to introduce the subject to a West End audience in London. George has already had the scheme before some parliament men.

The proposal to introduce Chinese coolie labor here has aroused the indignation of the London democrats, who are about to appeal to the prime minister to influence the Chinese government to stop the exportation. It is questionable whether coolie labor would succeed here, since it is impossible, save in one or two disagreeable and ill paid occupations, to undersell the natives.

Earl Spencer professes himself satisfied with the evidence his recent tour afforded him of returning peace in Ireland.

Mr. Gray's suggestion, made from the Richmond jail in Dublin, that the American government should modify its duties in favor of Irish productions, had attracted no attention here, as the suggestion is obviously impracticable.

The distrust of Parnell among the English liberals has been increased by the publication of a letter in which he insisted on the retirement of the land league syndicate for Derry to secure the defeat of the solicitor general by his tory opponent.

Mr. Bradlaugh has issued another address to the people, he says: "In this parliament I will sit," but he does not say how he means to do it.

The Longfellow committee is gaining strength. All objection to the memorial on the ground of his being a foreigner, has vanished.

Again Russia is arming extensively and is said to be preparing to put in a demand for the whole Balkan peninsula. Whether she will or not, she will certainly endeavor to get another slice out of the sultan's dominions, by way of compensation for any gain England may make or be supposed to have in Egypt. Italy is also determined not to be left out in the cold if she can help it by diplomacy or menace, and so you will see that the prospect is darkening so rapidly, that it will be no means surprising should the Gladstone administration alter its mind of recalling its troops from Egypt and instead, leave by far the larger part of the army in that country. The next step will be probably to submit plans for settlement of the Egyptian question to a European conference. This, of course, will create delay, and in the meantime British occupation of the khedive's country will be made, and perhaps gradually and almost perceptibly slip into a final settlement. In a matter like this possession is half the battle, and it is quite among the probabilities that those who fairly believe that Mr. Gladstone would get out of Egypt bag and baggage as soon as the war was over, will find once again they have made a total mistake.

Our stock markets are a good deal affected by all this uncertainty in foreign affairs, but upon the whole business here must be said to be good. Our harvest came out much better than was anticipated, so that the farmers generally have more money at their command than they have had for several years past. The root crops as well as the cereals have been wonderfully good, and the spare cash thus obtained by the farmers will naturally flow towards the stock exchange.

All the American securities held in this country are good, but the general list is affected by the state of the New York money market.

Under the belief that American enterprises are sure to develop Mexico rapidly, the buying of Mexican bonds has been greatly stimulated of late. These bonds have been down to ten per cent, but now are up to twenty-seven. People who look to the future have great faith that the United States will control the sister republic of Mexico either directly or indirectly, and note the immense progress made in the Mexican railway system owing to American enterprise.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The World's London cablegram says: The government is now beginning to realize the truth of the fact that there are many and great difficulties to be encountered in the process of arranging the Egyptian question. Gambetta's organs in Paris, to begin with, are demanding the renewal of the joint control, with the influence of France in the affairs of Egypt undiminished. At present, however, the British government does not seem disposed to consent to any such proposition. The old control is believed to have had a great share in producing Arabi and the national party in Egypt, and consequently to have led to the war. Further, it is held France has no right to enter Egypt on equal terms with England, having declined to take any part whatever in putting down Arabi's insurrection. The irritation in France at being calmly and conspicuously elbowed out of the way can naturally be imagined and it is evidently increasing every day, and may give rise to serious complications.

POLITICAL.

A Hopeful Outlook.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Col. W. P. Canaday, one of the coalition candidates for congress from North Carolina, is in this city and gives a hopeful view of the independents in his state. He says that in his opinion they will get five out of nine congressmen, including the congressman at large. He estimates 30,000 democrats will support the movement. He is also hopeful that the coalition party will have a majority in the legislature, though the senatorial districts were rearranged under the last census, greatly to the advantage of regular democrats.

Congressional Nominations.

NEWARK, Ill., Sept. 23.—A. B. Clark, editor of the Newark American, has been nominated for congress by the republican congressional committee of the sixteenth district, vice M. Churchill, resigned.

FREEPORT, Ill., Sept. 23.—The democrats of the sixth congressional district have nominated J. S. Tichner, of Rockford, for the long term, and M. Y. Johnson, of Genoa, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. R. M. Hawks.

EASTON, Pa., Sept. 23.—Democratic conferees of Bucks and Northampton counties, nominated Wm. Mitchell for congress, but Lehigh county conferees did not join the convention.

ELGIN, Sept. 23.—The prohibitionists of the fifth congressional district have nominated R. K. Dean of Belvidere.

NEW LONDON, Wis., Sept. 23.—Prohibitionists of the 9th district have nominated H. P. Woodmanza, of Oconto, for congress.

ALASKAN AFFAIRS.

Hoochenoo Openly Distilled and Natives Having a High Old Time—Good News from the Mines, Etc., Etc.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.

PORT TOWNSEND, W. T., Sept. 24.—Per steamer Idaho, which arrived this morning, the following items of news were received from Juneau City. Large quantities of hoochenoo are being manufactured at Hoonah and vicinity, and fighting, gambling and witchcraft are of daily occurrence. One squaw has been stabbed to death and several others tied up to exorcise the evil spirit.

At Juneau, Indian Jack while drunk attempted to break into the house of a man named Steel, and was knocked down and severely injured by a club in Steel's hands. Several other Indians coming to Jack's assistance a general scrimmage took place, in which a number of the Indians were badly hurt by Steel, when others arrived and drove the Indians off. The Indians now openly threaten to murder Steel or any other white person they can.

Work is progressing on the mines; several tunnels are being cut, and tramways, chutes, etc., erected. Webster's mill is in active operation, crushing the ore from Jamestown ledge. The placer mines are paying well and business in the camp is booming. It is probable that the $22,000 in gold shipped by last steamer will be largely exceeded this month.

Reports from Sitka state that the whole country is pleased that the mail contract has been awarded to Goodall, Perkins & Co. In the estimation of the Alaskan residents the territory would have suffered, and public service been badly injured if the mail contract had remained in the first contractor's hands.

Good weather prevails, and some garden vegetables, principally peas and cauliflower, have been raised.

The surgeon ordered to the marine hospital at Sitka is expected there in a short time on the Corwin. His drugs, books, etc., have already arrived.

Since the withdrawal of the steamer Gertrude from Stickeen river Indians have done all the transportation in their canoes this season. They have realized about two thousand dollars, and next year will probably double that amount. Wrangel is feeling the benefits of the circulation of this coin.

Rev. Sheldon Jackson arrived on the Idaho, clothed with power to select a site and erect a new mission building for the Indian boys of the territory. He has gone to work energetically, but the breaking down of the Chilcat sawmill will retard his operations. Lumber is much needed in the Ferry.

The deputy collector at Kodiak reports no liquor or wine of any description, at that port. The manufacture of hoochenoo there has almost entirely ceased.

Great disappointment exists in the territory over the failure of congress to provide some form of civil government. The people for the present would be satisfied with a court of justice, but politicians demand more.

The herring are running in myriads, and the Northwest Trading company's catch will extend very late into the season.

The general outlook for business in the territory is gratifying.

The signal service officer at Sitka has been removed, he claims through malicious and false reports circulated against him by other officials.

Sellwood.

A Beautiful Suburban Town on the East Shore of the Willamette.

The Best Opportunity of the Time for a Home.

The streets and avenues of this beautiful site are being rapidly cleared, and lots and blocks are now ready for sale.

Its Advantages to Residents

Are rapid and direct ferry communication with the city, almost level and easily cleared ground, good soil, and the facility for furnishing pure water.

The Steam Ferry

Which the Company guarantees for two years, will, in a pleasant ride of twenty minutes, land you where you can buy a lot for one-tenth the sum asked for one in twenty minutes' walk from the business center of Portland; and in the spring, when the large and swift steamer for which the Company is negotiating is put on, the trip will be reduced to fifteen minutes each way, at the nominal fare of five cents.

Other Means of Access.

No other site near Portland has been improved so lavishly by its proprietors as Sellwood, for the convenience of purchasers and residents. Streets have been opened and cleared, and a plank road from the river to the railroad station at Willsburg is projected, and grading and planking of part of it has been ordered this year, connecting, by a ferry soon to be put on, with Fulton and the macadam road. This road will also cross the East Portland and Oregon City road, so that means of access by railroads, steamer and wagon roads will be unequaled.

Pure Spring Water.

As soon as a sufficient number of lots have been sold to justify it, the best of spring water will be brought through the town. The creek which crosses the eastern length of the site furnishing ample power for the purpose.

The Sellwood Ferry Guaranteed.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Sellwood Real Estate Co., held August 21, 1882, the following resolution was adopted:

"RESOLVED, That the Sellwood Real Estate Company hereby guarantee that they will keep a Ferry in operation between the town of Sellwood and Portland at present prices to residents of Sellwood for a period of two years, except when unavoidable accidents cause temporary suspension." H. L. PITTOCK, President.

F. C. GOODWIN, Sec'y.

MONDAY MORNING, SEPT. 25, 1882.

THE PRETENDED AUTHORITY OF CAUCUS.

It is well known by all who know anything of the inside history of proceedings at Salem that nearly one-half of the republicans who are voting for Mitchell are his reluctant and unwilling supporters. Under stress and pressure of various kinds they are committed to him, and they only hold on because they have not been able as yet to see a hopeful deliverance. It is absolutely certain that a majority of the republican members do not want him elected; and it is known, moreover, that many of these, including, of course, no small number of those who have been casting their votes for him, are extremely restive under the combination of circumstances by which they are held in so serious a dilemma. To put it plainly, they are voting for Mitchell because they do not see the way clear to a sure result of a different kind. The unorganized purpose, though it be strong in numbers, is weak in positive force, and often loses its object through its own irresolution.

Several members who do not want to vote for Mitchell are held to him through circumstances which, as they conceive, do not permit them to bring forward other candidates; and hence they are giving their support to the man whom they would least and last of all prefer. We are not censuring them for their timidity; but do say that courage would be a better quality. The man who acts in a representative character ought not to allow himself to be made an instrument for doing a thing which his judgment condemns, and which he knows his constituents would not approve. An aggressive faction, contending for its object, has no scruples. Intimidation is one of its weapons, and it may be a formidable one if it be not met by firmness, or, if necessary, by defiance. Many men, however, hesitate to propose or undertake a thing unless they are first assured of the result; so there are those who keep on voting for Mitchell, though greatly against their will, only because they do not see the way to the sure election of some other man on whom they would gladly confer the honor.

The caucus is one of the instruments of this intimidation. It is the final turn of the screw in machine politics, and the boss and his followers always make the most of it. Caucus is declared by them to be a party usage, a binding law,—though no convention of the republican party or other authorized republican body has ever so declared it. It is a law invented by professional politicians to carry their own objects; but the republican masses have never approved it as a party law. On innumerable occasions they have, however, denounced it and refused to approve its results. It is a device to gag opposition, and is in direct conflict with the fundamental republican rights of individual choice and conviction. The republican party can exist only in the widest latitude of opinion. The basis of its existence is voluntary association for public objects. Caucus requires the surrender of opinion, independence and right of choice, and takes away from the citizen or his representative the right of making an effort to carry his own views into public action.

But since caucus in general has not the sanction of republican authority—since no authorized republican body has laid it down as a rule of party action—still less is a partial caucus like that held at Salem in the Mitchell interest of any binding force. It is in fact no caucus at all. The republican party is the whole party, not any mere section or faction of it. No section or faction is authorized to speak in its name. Hence the rump caucus held at Salem not only does not bind the members who refused to participate in it, but is not binding either in its moral effect or by any pretence of party law, upon those who did participate. It is said, however, that a minority insists on controlling the party. The assertion is unfounded. One-third of the republican members simply say that, in their opinion, the choice of a senator ought not to be limited to a single man, and he the man of all others especially objectionable to a very large portion of the party. What is there in J. H. Mitchell which should lead a faction to proclaim him as Oregon's "only man?" Is it a spotless personal history? Is it high culture? Is it ability like that which makes a Webster the foremost man in his state? When did J. H. Mitchell rise to these unapproachable heights? In his own esteem, doubtless long ago. But if the republican party of Oregon actually has only one man of sufficient intellectual force and moral worth to be senator, and that man is Mitchell, it is in a bad way indeed. Yet that is the statement which the members who oppose Mitchell are required to accept. An intelligent people will judge whether, in refusing to accept it, they are not on firmer ground than those who are trying to force it upon them. They honor themselves and the state by refusing so to belittle their representative character and stultify themselves.

FOR REPUBLICANS TO CONSIDER.

It is apparent to impartial observers of all parties that the effort to force the election of J. H. Mitchell, pursued as it is, with so desperate a purpose, is seriously impairing the prospects of republican harmony in the state for future elections. It would be well for Republican members of the legislature who have been voting for Mitchell, among whom are not a few fair minded men who are by no means attached to his fortunes, to consider seriously this situation. We do not address the pronounced members of the Mitchell faction but those who are carried along with it. These last certainly do not approve this scheme of political desperation which puts the man above the party for personal and selfish ends. Why should the party be sacrificed to the ambition of Mitchell or any other man? Why should he be singled out and elected, when he alone has brought discord upon the party and will perpetuate its divisions? He alone is the conspicuous representative in this state of every political and party abuse, and of every objectionable thing against which the independence of the republican party protests and contends. Who does not see that the present contest, with the bitterness it engenders, is fraught with the gravest dangers to the republican party of the state? Is this desperate effort to elect Mitchell likely to leave the party in a condition which will enable it to elect another senator in two years? Every member who cares for the future of the party ought to consider this situation. Defeat of Mitchell and election of any one of the many able and worthy men of the party would open the way to perfect understanding, good will and co-operation among all classes of republicans in future contests. Was the party so prosperous during the years it was controlled in his interest when he was senator before, that it should now turn to him again? The effort to elect him now rests solely on his hope of securing democratic votes. Here, too, is a situation for republicans to consider. Does this intrusion of the worst element of the democratic party in the election of a republican senator, brought about by the solicitation of the candidate who fails to get the republicans to unite upon him, bode any good to the republican party? And are republican members going to sit by and see a senator elected by democratic votes of the class which can be obtained only by purchase and corruption? Worse even than this, will they participate in a transaction of such a character? It is high time that all who have an interest in the future of the republican party should take notice of the tendency of this effort to elect Mitchell at the expense of future harmony. Let it not be said or supposed that THE OREGONIAN is making any threat in this matter. It has no political power. It can do nothing whatever without the support of public opinion. But it knows there is a vast body of public opinion in the republican party which opposes Mitchell and would regard his election as a fatal blow to party welfare. This can be said of no other man whatever. Why, then, blindly follow the fortunes of the one man whose election would be fraught with such consequences?

It is alleged that THE OREGONIAN, in opposing Mitchell, has uttered "obscene personalities." It has merely written his undeniable history with the greatest possible delicacy of expression. "Obscene" it is no doubt; but who is responsible for it? When a man is a candidate for a public position his life and character are proper subjects for examination. If to tell the truth about both in the chastest language the subject will admit makes an "obscene" recital, so much the worse for the man who has such a history.

The republican party has in its ranks a vast body of men without political aspirations, but with high political morals. To meet the demands of these classes the leadership of the party must be kept free from the dictation of mercenary, selfish, corrupt and unworthy men. Here is a point that can nowhere be observed with more propriety than in the election of a senator. Now is the time for republican representatives to think of H. W. S.

Mitchell has succeeded in getting four democratic votes. Reputable members of the democratic party assert that by no possibility can he get above three more. Therefore if the eighteen republicans continue to hold their position as firmly as they have done, Mitchell can never succeed. The issue of the contest is in their hands. We are assured that they realize the responsibility.

The republican party is above its politicians and ought to be kept above them. Will republican members of the legislature think of it?

Mitchell's democratic support comes mainly from the Grover wing of the party. This is not so surprising as suggestive.

PUBLIC OPINION.

Dallas Itemizer.

The republican members of the legislature from this county have taken their political lives in their own hand in refusing to go into caucus. * * * We are far from criticising the action of the eighteen who are standing out. The act has the merit of boldness. They have evinced courage, and we leave that matter where it properly belongs, with their individual consciences. In them is reposed the trust of electing the Senator. We do not wish to indicate a choice. But they cannot now, with credit to themselves, vote for Mitchell. Should they do so the whole merit of their revolt, if they have merit, would be lost; while the blame of it, if it be blameable, would not be removed. Their boldness would then seem to have been only bluff; their courage only coquetting; their apparent independence only the first phase of a weak and unmanly vacillation. And worse than that, there would not be wanting those who have not the confidence in the unswerving integrity of our representatives that we have, who would attribute their action to a desire for private gain rather than for public weal. But we do not fear but that our representatives will agree with us in our views. They are confidently claimed by the Mitchell men, but we believe mistakenly. But if we are in error, then it were better that a millstone, politically speaking, should be hanged around the neck of the one who retraces his steps to the Mitchell camp, and himself cast into the sea. The people of Polk county must admire, if they do not commend, a brave and independent act which is the result of a conscientious opinion, they will neither admire nor commend a course, evincing, at the best, a weakness; at the worst, a crime. The rubicon has been crossed, and over it there is no return.

Benton Leader.

We have the most profound respect for the "faithful eighteen" in the legislature, for the determination which they have evinced against the infliction of Mitchell on the people as United States senator. They are like the seven thousand who would not bow the knee to Baal, and have solemnly vowed and reciprocally pledged themselves with each other, that neither Mitchell's blandishments, threats or promises of reward shall make them recreant to or forgetful of the interests of their constituents. There are enough of them to insure Mitchell's defeat if they stand out, and their actions thus far indicate that the end of the session will find them where they now stand. Mitchell went into caucus with thirty-six votes, ten short of the number required to elect. If the eighteen republicans stand out Mitchell must have ten democratic votes to succeed, and while it is possible that a few democrats may be found who would vote for him from choice, it is well for democrats to bear in mind that if he is elected by democratic votes, every democrat who votes for J. H. Mitchell must bear the reputation of having sold his vote. And the eighteen republicans who refused to go into caucus may be sure that all of them who come around after having once taken their stand against him, must rest under the same imputation.

Salem Statesman.

There are many "youthful indiscretions" which Christian charity will and ought to forgive. No man has yet been created perfect, and in the general and honest effort to live well, an occasional fault or mistake is rather an indication that men are human than an evidence of total depravity. But when the whole record of a man's life is made up of a series of acts, each of which stands out as a crime more dark and damnable than that which preceded it, condemnation, and not forgiveness or approval, should be the course adopted for suppressing the evil influences of such an example.

Now that the life and character of John H. Mitchell are made proper and necessary subjects for discussion, we have a right to judge of his character by the life he has lived. Not by a single act, mind you, but by his life as he himself has made it, and given it to the world. We might overlook the seduction of a young girl, if that were all. We might forget the deserted wife and hungry children, if no other misstep had been taken. We might ignore his flight with Sarah J. Brinker, if it had occurred in a moment of irresistable passion. We might not see the crime, but only the folly, of prostituting a woman under his own roof, while his marriage bed was flooded with the tears of an outraged and insulted wife in the adjoining room, if the act stood uncoupled with other crimes. We might attribute to an overpowering necessity the swindles and frauds revealed by the record in the Balch and Thomas cases, if there were no other records. We might overlook any one of the many other things of kindred character, which have been occurring all along the pathway of his life, if it stood alone, even though undisputed by him. But when every step is marked by crime, and when every crime is more revolting to the moral sense, more dangerous as an example, because more enticing, how can we pardon and forget? But when we remember these things in connection with the record we present below, what is to be said by moral men who propose to endorse his life? What will such men say to their children upon the subject of a correct and upright character? If the life in question is to be rewarded, what crime in God's name will entitle a man to punishment and disrespect? And yet, in the very teeth of all this, there are men who will vote for John H. Mitchell for United States senator, who are so well satisfied of his want of character, that they carefully exclude him from their homes and place him under the ban in social life. Truly, most truly, "politics make strange bed fellows."

FROM THE CAPITAL.

[EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SALEM, Saturday Evening.

This has been an exciting day. On the first ballot Siglin, Sifers and Curtis, democrats, changed from Prim to Mitchell, and the bulk of the opposition vote yesterday given to Failing changed to Hare. A motion to proceed to another ballot was made and voted upon and in connection with it a most unpleasant scene occurred. The opposition assisted by the democrats making a decided majority, wished to avoid another ballot. Mr. McConnell, however, by a series of partisan rulings, forced another vote. He declined to recognize call for division on the vote, and again flatly refused to allow an appeal from his decision, contrary to all rules of proceeding, and in the face of a clear majority. The ballot proceeded, and Long, another democrat, changed from Prim to Mitchell, increasing his vote to forty. A motion for another ballot was voted down, the opposition, most of the democrats, and Kelly and Baker voting "no," and the Mitchell force voting "yes." Joint convention then adjourned till Monday at noon. While Mitchell gained four votes to-day, he has small cause for satisfaction. It is understood that the four democrats had been fixed to vote for him when their votes would elect. Mitchell saw that if he did not rally to-day his case was hopeless, and he deceived Sifers, Siglin, Long and Curtis into delivering the goods in advance of their contract terms. The Mitchell people profess to feel elated over the results of the day and their rank and file who only know what their leaders tell them are in fact in good spirits, but the managers realize that they are not yet out of the woods. It is intimated that several of the thirty six who have steadily voted for Mitchell are not disposed to unite with democratic votes, and that they will announce their independence of the so-called caucus on Monday. Altogether, the situation is decidedly mixed; but one thing is certain that no candidate will have a walk over.

SALEM, Sunday, 10 P. M.

There is no change in the situation to-night. The conduct of Long, Curtis, Sifers and Siglin rather showed Mitchell's weakness than increased strength. He has claimed all along that he had but to say the word to be elected by democratic votes, but this boast has lost whatever credit it had since the word has been said and failure has followed it. The impression is general that Long, Curtis, Siglin and Sifers were improperly influenced. Leading men in their own party assert openly that they were bought. They changed at a critical time after having taken and maintained through several ballots a firm stand for the candidate of their party. This circumstance alone is damning. Republicans and democrats alike hold them in contempt. The great question to-day is whether or not Mitchell will be able to buy six other democratic votes which, if he holds his present strength, would elect him. He can, probably, by paying enough, gain one, possibly two; but I think not more than two. A break in the opposition force, prophesied yesterday by Mitchell strikers, did not come. It is an insult to every member of the solid eighteen to suggest its possibility. Publicly and privately, every man of the eighteen has said that he will not vote for Mitchell, and I do not believe that a single man in the list has even so much as thought of breaking faith. They may be relied upon to remain true to their consciences, true to their constituents, and true to the best interests of the party. I do not think that Mitchell can much longer hold his original thirty-six votes. The support in caucus of several of them was due to misrepresentation, and now that the mask has been torn aside, they would gladly find the way out to independent and honorable action. It is not among the things improbable that some will declare their independence to-day.

To-night, as usual during the past week, Mitchell's election on first ballot is claimed by his strikers. We have grown used to the oft repeated bluff, and merely regard it as an idle boast. I do not think that there will be an election to-day. Mitchell may pull up to 42 or 43 votes, but he cannot get enough to elect.

A PERTINENT INQUIRY.

CORVALLIS, Sept. 11th.

To THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Can you inform me what has become of the case of the state of Oregon vs Mason and Beebe, indicted in the circuit court for Multnomah county for attempting to bribe the jury in the Bradley case? If these men are guilty they ought to be punished.

To allow such a case to drag along and wear out has a great tendency to bring the administration of justice into contempt, and create the impression that the court is trying to screen a couple of rascally attorneys.
SUBSCRIBER.

[The case came up late in the last term of the state circuit court on demurrer, and was partially argued on both sides. Since then Judge Stott has been very busy with other matters which took precedence and demanded attention. Argument of the case will be concluded very soon—probably this week.]

HE IS WONDERFUL!

HE IS STRANGE!

He Tells Your Disease without Asking a Question!

Thousands flock to see this strange man. He has astonished the best talent by his great knowledge of the Inner Man. Don't fail to be examined and find out without guess work what condition your Lungs are in, also the Heart, Liver, Kidneys and every part of the inside. It is worth a fortune to any one, for his examinations are really wonderful and give unbounded satisfaction to all.

DR. PERRY PRATT

The great American Herb Phenomenon. Men, women and children, if you are suffering go and see him.

HERBALISM

Is the oldest and grandest system of medical treatment in the world. It is the application of nature's simplest remedies for the removal of disorders set on by artificial life. It came in with Adam, and will go out with the last man. "And the fruit thereof shall be for meat and the leaf thereof shall be for medicine." Ezekiel 47th chapter 12th verse. When universally practised in this and other countries there was small loss of life and men lived as a rule their allotted time and even far beyond. Mercury and the lancet causes more deaths in quiet sick beds than the sword and cannon on the field of battle. Reaction is taking place and common sense is asserting itself in the minds and conduct of the people, and the clever and accomplished herbalist becomes again the doctor for the million.

Asthma, Catarrh and Lung troubles cured by Dr. Perry Pratt astonished the best doctors in London and Paris, and yet he uses nothing but simple herbs. There is a disease which produces pains about the body that thousands of people treat for Rheumatism but are never cured. The pains occur about any part of the body, but are most apt to occur in one of the hip joints passing down the sciatic nerve; it is often called Sciatic Rheumatism. This disease affects the heart and the entire nerve system, and is wasting and debilitating to the entire body. There is an absolute cure for this disease and those who may suffer in this respect will be informed of the cause of it and of its presence by an examination by Dr. Pratt, who on an examination of the action of the heart will point out the disease without asking a question.

HO KEE PO KEE!

The most nutritious, strengthening and blood cleansing Restorative known, when combined with our Indian Herb Pad, is a sure remedy for Catarrh, Coughs, Influenza, Inflammation of Bowels and Bladder, Dysentery, Bilious Colic, Cholera Morbus, Colds, Fevers, Tape Worm, Chills and Fever, Dyspepsia, Fainting, Loss of Appetite, Palpitation of the Heart, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, and all diseases of the Blood, Liver and Stomach.

The Indian Herb Pad used in connection with Ho Kee Po Kee Herbs, have created intense excitement by the wonderful cures they have effected, reminding those who have used them of the last days of miracles.

MATERIAL OR IMMATERIAL?

Mysterious Manifestations Made Through the Mediumship of the Miller Bros. at New Market Last Evening.

New Market theatre was filled to its [illegible] last evening and hundreds of people went away, [illegible] and [illegible] standing [illegible] the [illegible]. All this [illegible] the entertainment. The [illegible] of the brothers [illegible] the nature of their [illegible], the [illegible] attempt [illegible] the effects they produced and leaving to the audience [illegible] the causes upon the ground of spiritualism, [illegible] they [illegible].

The first test as it was called was that of names [illegible] the names of deceased persons written by the people in the audience on slips of paper which were folded and placed in envelopes, these were later [illegible] and handed to the medium. The names were answered correctly in every instance.

There [illegible] a message written upon the back of a slate in full view of the audience, signed James A. Garfield, one of the names placed in the sealed envelopes, [illegible] followed, but the most wonderful of all was the cabinet exhibitions. Three men were selected from the audience as a committee. One was Mr. Bennett, a well-known spiritualist, and the others were E. D. Curzon and Jack Vincent, both skeptics. Mr. Curzon became very much excited [illegible] the cabinet stations, but stated to the audience before he left the stage that he could not explain what had happened before his eyes and was convinced that there had been more than mortal power at work.

During materializations of spirit forms the audience were requested to keep perfectly quiet, but became very noisy during the manifestations, and this part of the seance was necessarily discontinued.

Whatever may be the merits or demerits of what the Miller Bros. do, as regards their aid from a higher power or otherwise, the exhibition which they gave last evening was the finest of the kind ever seen in Portland, and is to be highly commended if only for the pure enjoyable entertainment it furnished. Spiritualists claim the proofs are positive, sceptics acknowledge its mysteriousness, and people who care not what it is own its interesting character.

By general request from many who were unable to obtain admission and some who have already witnessed the manifestations, they will be repeated next Sunday evening.

PUYALLUP HOP NOTES.

Tacoma Ledger.

Two hundred Fort Rupert Indians are here picking hops.

Dispatches received here to-day from San Francisco quote choice Washington territory hops at 55 cents.

The hop crop is the heaviest ever known in this valley, and will undoubtedly exceed a million pounds by considerable.

Van Ogle has been offered 55 cents per pound for his hops and has refused the offer. He finds that he has a far better yield than he expected, his yard averaging a ton to the acre.

Forty-five white pickers are at work near Puyallup, and make one dollar and a half a day. One expert Indian woman in Meeker's hop yard made three dollars a day for five days in succession.

Messrs. Meeker & Co. have just sold seventeen thousand pounds of their crop at 53 cents per pound delivered at Puyallup. They have 249 pickers, 10 men at the kiln and press, with five teams delivering hops and secure over three tons a day.

The weather has been most auspicious for the hop growers. Very few sales of hops are made. Most of the growers who have not sold will not sell until they have baled. Some of the small growers have finished picking. Nearly all will finish next week. E. Meeker says he will have 65 tons of hops. J. P. Stewart expected but eight tons and now says he will have more than ten tons. The yield is generally more than expected. 600 bales have been sold for shipment direct to Milwaukee market.

BAKER COUNTY NOTES.

[OREGONIAN'S LOCAL CORRESPONDENT.]

BAKER CITY, Sept. 20.

The great influx of railroad hands has raised the price of fruit.

For three days last week it was very rainy, but is clear as a bell now.

Such a scarcity of farm hands was never known before in this county.

Contracts have been entered into for the erection of two large brick buildings on Main street.

Mrs. J. M. Shepherd has been quite low with some kind of fever, but is convalescent at present.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

Eastern Oregon.

Flour retails in Canyon City at $10 per barrel.

W. C. Cabell has sold his quartz mine on [illegible] creek for $10,000.

Governor Moody has presented the Canyon City brass band with a beautiful silk flag.

The county court of Grant county has [illegible] the letting of the county poor to the lowest responsible bidder.

The new bridges across the south fork of the John Day is to have two spans of sixty feet each and two approaches, each fifty feet in length.

Oats and barley of the new crop are held at two cents a pound in the upper John Day valley, and two and a half cents a pound in the south Fork vicinity. The price is more likely to rise than to go down.

Western Oregon.

Wheat is selling at 75 cents per bushel at Independence.

Hillsboro public school opened on the 18th with an attendance of 165 pupils.

The warehouses at Junction City continue to receive about 4000 bushels of wheat daily.

J. F. Warren, of Knappa, exhibits in Astoria 27 pounds of potatoes, the product of two hills.

Wm. C. King, of Wisconsin, is lecturing in Polk and Benton counties in the interests of the Good Templars.

T. J. Peterson of Gaston, had his barn with all its contents of hay and grain burned last week. Loss about $1000.

A contract for repairing a bridge across the Tualatin at Taylor's ferry will be let by public outcry at the bridge on the 9th of October.

A number of Washington county farmers, by publication in the Independent, warn hunters and fishermen to keep without their enclosures on and after Sept. 22d.

Thomas Larkins disappeared suddenly from a hotel at Corvallis about six weeks ago, leaving behind his baggage. He has not since been heard from and it is thought that in a fit of mental derangement he threw himself into the river.

T. E. Fristoe, who lives north of Sheridan, was on Thursday last stricken with paralysis, while threshing in that section. The stroke was a severe one, extending over his entire body and leaving him in a very critical condition for a time. But by careful medical attention he was able to be out on Saturday, and is in a fair way to fully recover.

Last week during the heavy wind that prevailed for two or three days, Mr. Kimberlain, of East Chehalem, put fire into his straw; as the wind was favorable he thought there would be no danger. But a sudden change took the fire the other way, and soon carried it to his wheat pile. The piled up sacks being covered with straw, made a bad place for the fire to get into, and before it could be mastered it destroyed or injured about 900 out of 1300 bushels of good wheat.

Jas. Bernard, accused of complicity in the murder of an Indian near Eugene City last week, was arrested near Brownsville a few days since. He had shaved all the whiskers from his face, and was armed with a pistol and bowieknife. On being arraigned he waived examination and in default of bail was committed to jail to await the action of the grand jury. The Indian, Jim Kirk, accused jointly with Bernard of the crime, is also in jail awaiting the action of the grand jury on charge of murder in the first degree.

Democrat: Up to noon Thursday 410,000 bushels of wheat had been delivered at the different warehouses and mills in Albany. At Ballard, Isom & Co's the bins were full, and part were being emptied into the new warehouse just built, where the wheat is placed in sacks and piled. At Thos. Monteith's & Sons' the bins are full and a place has been arranged underneath for more. At Foster's both warehouses and mill are nearly full, and the rush continues. The same price as last week is being received, 75 cents and premiums.

Southern Oregon.

A stalk of corn measuring 12 feet in length and 7 inches in circumference is shown in Dayton.

John Picard of Walla Walla has commenced a libel suit against M. C. Harris for the sum of $5,000.

Three storekeepers in Puyallup were recently fined $25 each for keeping their stores open on Sunday in violation of law.

The lower mill at Gardiner is cutting 40,000 feet of lumber per day, while the upper mill is standing still.

Levi Ankeny sold recently the farm known as the Steen place, near Walla Walla, containing 240 acres, to O. P. Howard for the sum of $11,000—$25 83⅓ per acre.

Walla Walla Union—As John McNeil with his three-year-old son on the seat with him, was driving Saturday his wagon ran over a post placed at the corner of the fence to protect it. The jolt of the wagon threw the boy out, breaking his thigh bone.

Reed & Co. are hauling salmon from the Siuslaw river to their cannery on the Umpqua, a short distance above its mouth. The road is along the beach and the distance about 20 miles. A four-horse wagon makes two round trips per week and draws about four thousand pounds of fish at each load.

The country northwest of Crab Creek is well occupied by sheep. In a radius of 15 to 20 miles there are upwards of 30,000 head. Messrs. McGilvery, Neace and Drumheller are among the owners. The first named and his partners have something over 4,000 head. This part of the country is only a summer range. Mr. McGilvery has a place on Cow creek where he can cut one hundred tons of hay. In the winter the sheep are moved to the ranch.

Coast Mail: The work of grading on the Coos Bay and Coquille wagon road between Green point and Aiken's landing was finished up last Friday. Two bridges between Hall's and the landing remain to be completed. These will be finished next week, when the road will be ready for travel. The wharf built at Aiken's landing is 30 by 60 feet in size, with good turning ground for the teams, and the new road is represented as an excellent one throughout its entire length.

Puget Sound Mail: Timber Inspector McTaggart has during the past month scaled five and a half million feet of logs on the Skagit. In round numbers he scaled some 15,000,000 feet during the last three months. These 15,000,000 feet at the rate of $6 50 per thousand, will bring to the Skagit loggers nearly $100,000, or to be precise about it, $97,500. Besides these there are about 15,000,000 feet more on hand awaiting scaling and rise in the river. It is fair to estimate that some 20,000 additional feet will be put in during the remainder of the season, making, say, a total for the year of 50,000,000 feet, or $325,000.

Ledger: Twenty of the pile clusters under the south bunker have been encased by cylinders of different lengths, according to the varying depths of water, ranging from 12 to 39 feet. In some of them cement bottoms were filled, but it is found that sediment settles on these bottoms and is objectionable and the project of thus treating the bottoms in advance of filling to the top with cement concrete has been abandoned. There are four completed cylinders on hand and several under way at the shops, but the iron is exhausted. Each of the bunkers requires 45 cylinders. The next Puget sound steamer from San Francisco will bring three car loads, which will be enough for 10 cylinders, but these added there will not be sufficient to complete the foundation for the south bunker, lacking only a few, however.

If you want to dance well this winter take a few lessons by the Frazer Chart System, over the Bank.

OVER FIVE THOUSAND.

The Pavilion of the Mechanics' Fair Densely Thronged with People Last Evening. Some Fine Exhibits Particularly Noted.

Portland let loose its pleasure-seeking population upon the Mechanics' Fair last evening, and the result was a thronged pavilion where one could not help being jostled about by the crowd. All classes were represented, from the workshops to the mansions, from the pale-faced clerk to the browned and brawny farmer, from the artisan to the artist, mingling together throughout the pavilion, and each finding something of interest to examine and study.

The attendance in the afternoon was very large, and in the evening over 5000 people were present. The electric lamps were up and in good working order, penetrating every nook and corner with their brilliant rays. The machine for generating the electricity was an object of curiosity to many, and it was necessary to have an attendant constantly on the watch to prevent serious consequences to those of the curious who wished to handle as well as look upon its workings.

Early in the evening, before the lights were started, and when the machine was running slowly to test its working order, a man and woman stepped up to view it, and the former began to explain the different sections to his companion.

"This is where the electricity passes into the wires," he remarked, as he took hold, with each hand, of the positive and negative poles. The next instant he lay upon the floor, somewhat astonished, but mad as a hornet.

"Where's the man who hit me?" he yelled, jumping to his feet.

The affair [illegible] explained, and the man went away with an increased store of knowledge in his brain and electricity in his system.

The electrical machine is not alone to be regarded with distrust by those who visit the pavilion, but the lights as well. They have not yet been enough in general use for everyone to understand their peculiarities. They are even more opposed to the embellishing or imitating of nature than the sunlight, and the slightest flaw or deception is easily discovered under their piercing rays. Gaslight is of an opposite nature, and aids a deception in many instances to appear more beautiful than the real. It was under the kind mantle which gaslight threw upon such things that originated the practice of forming a beautiful complexion upon the human face to suit the taste of the wearer. So great a science did this become that even experts were not always able to detect the difference between the false and the real. The electric light has changed all this. Nature's faces are clear and charming, while the artist's handiwork stands out upon the countenance like the veriest daub upon canvass. Verbum Sap.

Washington Territory.

Ground in Walla Walla county is in excellent condition for plowing and seeding.

The Clarke county fair will begin on the 3d of October and continue three days.

The unexpended balance of the small-pox fund of New Tacoma, amounting to $1,262, has been transferred to the general fund.

The fall term of the territorial university began on the 18th with an attendance of 89, the largest number commencing a term in the annals of the institution.

Birmingham & Long, of the White river cheese factory, are using at this time about two and a half tons of milk daily, from which they manufacture about 700 pounds of cheese per day.

On Tuesday Thos. P. Otwell, of Cedar creek, took to the hospital in Vancouver John T. Taylor, who is suffering from severe burns. A few days ago Mr. Taylor stepped into a fire where a stump had been burned out, and before he could get out was burned severely about the feet and legs.

Vancouver Register: The damages to the fences and graves in the city cemetery by fire were considerable. In addition to destroying the fences enclosing the cemetery, fences around the graves were destroyed, wooden grave-boards burned and marble stones cracked. In many places all marks of the whereabouts of graves were defaced. Portions of the cemetery will doubtless have to be resurveyed. A new fence around the cemetery is now building.

THE ALBINA HOMESTEAD, of which the above is a complete plat, is situated next to Albina, and between and fronting on both the extension of Fourth street, East Portland, and the Vancouver road. All the lots in Blocks 26, 27, 28, 29 and 30 are 50x120 feet, with twenty-foot alleys through the blocks. All the other lots are 50x100 feet. The streets are wide and have all been cleared, while the lots are high and level and can be very easily cleared.
We now offer for sale for a short time a limited number of these Lots and Blocks at reasonable prices and on easy terms.
THE ALBINA HOMESTEAD is unquestionably the best field for investment and the most desirable place for location now in the market. Its close proximity to the cities of Portland and East Portland, and to the heavy improvements now being carried out by the various companies under the direction of Mr. Villard—the Dry Docks, Elevators, Machine Shops and other works of these companies—its nearness also to the Albina Ferry, together with the proposed Street Railway from I. Street Ferry, in East Portland, will make this property very accessible from all parts of these cities. These advantages will necessarily attract a large population, and in the meantime make this the most popular and valuable suburban property in this vicinity, while in the near future it must furnish homes for the rapidly increasing population of Albina, and then its value will be at least five times what we now offer it for. We will show the property and give full information to all who may apply to us personally, and inquiries addressed to us by mail will receive prompt attention.

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment, President McConnell in the chair. [illegible] Opened with prayer by Rev. Mr. [illegible] of the M. E. Church.

Message from the House [illegible] of senate memorial No. [illegible] relative to the Nicaragua canal company.

Jessup presented a petition signed by 779 citizens of Oregon, asking for a prohibitory liquor law, and offered a joint resolution for the amendment as prayed for.

Jessup moved that three hundred copies of the resolution be printed.

Colvig, from the committee to whom was referred the matter of segregating the message of Gov. Thayer, recommended reference of different parts thereof as follows:

That portion relating to finance, bonded indebtedness and current expenses, be referred to the committee on ways and means. Taxation, to committee on assessments. Penitentiary and insane asylum, to committee on public buildings. School for deaf mutes, state university, agricultural college and common school fund, to committee on education. Public lands, to committee on public lands. Pilotage, towage, salmon fisheries, to committee on commerce.

The committee was granted further time to segregate the message of Governor Moody.

Concurrent resolution No. 5, relating to assessments was taken from the table, and on motion of Davenport, indefinitely postponed.

Reed introduced S. M. No. 2, asking that the land granted to the Oregon Central Railway company for the construction of a railroad from McMinnville to Astoria, be declared forfeited and thrown open to settlement.

Isom offered a joint resolution authorizing the secretary of state to have printed 1000 copies of the journal of the Oregon Constitutional Convention. Adopted.

Tyson offered a concurrent resolution, providing for a committee of two on the part of the senate and three on the part of the house to visit the Deaf Mute school.

At 12 M. the senate repaired to the hall of the house to vote for U. S. senator.

House.

House met at 10 A. M., Speaker McBride in the chair.

Roll was called. Journal read and approved.

Wilbur and Perkins of Douglas, were granted leave of absence till 11 o'clock.

Ford gave notice of the introduction of a resolution providing for the appointment of a standing committee on assessments.

Message from the senate informing house that the committee of Tyson and Haines has been appointed in accordance with joint resolution.

The speaker announced the appointment of the following special committees:

To examine into the management of the state printing office for the past two years, as provided by house concurrent resolution 8, Messrs. Keady, Nichols and Hayes.

Examine into the management of the penitentiary, as provided by H. J. R. 9, Messrs. Plummer, Stewart and Nelson.

Examine books and accounts of secretary of state, board of school land commissioners and superintendent of public instruction, as provided by H. C. R. 15, Messrs. Tanner, Jones and Long.

SECOND READING OF BILLS.

H. B. 1, by Marquam—Granting the Oregon Short Line Railway company right of way through lands of the state, and necessary grounds for stations, depots, side tracks, turn tables, and water stations.

Give the company right of way through all lands of the state to the width of 50 feet on each side of the center of the track, and necessary grounds for stations, depots, side tracks, &c., not exceeding ten acres in any one place on payment of $2 per acre; also right to take from adjacent lands, timber, earth, stone, water, etc., for construction of road.

Keady moved to amend the bill by making it read "without prejudice to similar rights heretofore granted by the state to other companies;" amendment was adopted.

Marquam moved that the bill as amended be engrossed and read a third time to-morrow.

Carson moved as an amendment that it be referred to committee on corporations.

This attempt to railroad the measure by having it engrossed and read a third time to-morrow met with strong opposition from Dufur, Morrass and Gilbert, Morrass saying that he thought as it was a bill that conferred unusual privileges, it would be well to have time to consider its provisions well before taking action.

Isom favored the measure as a meritorious one, saying that it would greatly benefit the section which he represents; that the land to be granted was absolutely barren, and while the bill provided for a compensation of $2 per acre for land, it could be bought every day by individuals for $1 25. If there was any discrimination it was in favor of the state. He favored non-reference to committee on account of delay, but was willing to make it special order for any given time in the near future.

Mr. Carson made his maiden speech, favoring reference to committee on corporations, believing that the provisions of the bill should be fairly understood by every member.

Tanner favored reference to the committee, saying that it was certainly the most satisfactory and expeditious way of treating it. In committee the provisions would be fully analyzed, and when it shall have been reported back the members could vote conscientiously on its passage.

The amendment was then carried, and bill referred to committee on corporations.

Speaker here called Gilbert to the chair.

H. B. 8, Morrass—Amending act regulating inclosures. Provides all fields and inclosures shall be inclosed with a fence sufficiently close, composed of posts and rails, or posts and palings, etc., laid in manner commonly called worm fence; referred to committee on roads and highways.

H. B. 9, Webb—Amending miscellaneous laws relative to proceedings in justices' courts. Provides the justice may require the private prosecutor in a criminal action to give security for costs and disbursements, if there is a reasonable doubt as to the sufficiency of the complaint, or of good faith on the part of the complainant, before receiving the complaint therein; referred to judiciary committee.

H. B. 10, Webb—Regulating marking domestic animals on the ear. Provides it shall be unlawful in marking to remove any part exceeding one-half the ear.

On motion of Webb, considered engrossed and will be read third time to-morrow.

H. B. 11, Dunbar—Amending general laws relative to punishment of crimes against property; referred to committee on commerce.

H. B. 12, Tanner—Creating office of insurance commissioner, defining his duties and providing for compensation; also governing insurance companies doing business in the state. Provides for an insurance commissioner to be appointed by the governor for a term of four years. Said commissioner shall give a bond in sum of $10,000, with two or more sureties, for faithful performance of duties; referred to judiciary committee.

H. B. 13, Jamison—Exempting harvesters from forced sale, or attachment or execution; provides there shall be exempt from execution or attachment to every householder being head of a family, a homestead not exceeding in value $2,000, while occupied by the owner or his family; referred to judiciary committee.

H. B. 14, Ford—Amending code of civil procedure relative to conveyances executed by executors or administrators; provides conveyance executed by executor or administrator shall set forth date of order describing sale and date of order confirming sale and directing conveyance, and book, number thereof, and page containing same, and title of court making such orders, and shall operate to convey all the estate, etc., in the premises at time of testator's death; referred to judiciary committee.

H. B. 15, Bruce—Assess mortgages and other liens upon real property for purpose of taxation, and regulating manner of assessing such real property and payment of such taxes; provides that mortgage, deed of trust, contract or other obligation or judgment by which a debt is charged or lien created upon real property, shall be deemed, for the purposes of taxation, as an interest in the real property thereby affected, and the value of such real property, less the amount of the debt so charged, or lien created, shall be assessed for taxation. On motion the bill was laid over until a committee on assessments shall be appointed.

H. B. 16, Whitney—Amending general laws relative to concerning fees of officers, and to prescribe fees of certain officers; also to fix legal distance from the several county seats to the penitentiary; to regulate the fees of sheriffs for carrying convicts to the penitentiary; referred to the committee on counties.

H. B. 17, Gault—Amending act establishing uniform course of public instruction in the common schools of the state; prescribes duties of school directors; referred to committee on education.

H. B. 18, Perkins of Douglas—Was withdrawn.

H. B. 19, Whitney—Simplify proceedings in justices' courts. No pleadings upon part of plaintiff or defendant shall be required; but before any process shall be issued in any suit, plaintiff shall file the instrument sued on, or a statement of the facts constituting cause of action, and defendant shall before trial file the instrument relied upon.

NEWS OF SATURDAY.

[From the Sunday Oregonian.]

Some even go so far as to predict an average of 80 bushels in the lower portion of the state.

They leave to-morrow for New York where Wild Flower trots October third.

CROP REPORTS.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23.—A grain commission house of this city has just received a great amount of reliable information regarding crops in the chief corn raising states west and south, the general summary of which shows the condition of the crop to be good and the acreage planted larger than last year. In Kentucky, Tennessee, Texas, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska more land was put into corn than ever before. Prospects in these states in the main are very good. In Texas the crop is made, and were it not that most planters are engaged in picking cotton, corn would now be harvested and moving to market. Illinois makes the poorest report of all both as regards acreage and condition, but the state will probably have a fair crop. In most states north of Kentucky the crop will be ready for market in November. In Iowa the acreage is about the same as last year and prospect fair. Much depends, however, upon there being no frosts in September. In Indiana the acreage fully equals last year, prospects have improved wonderfully the last two or three weeks and the yield is expected to be larger than last year. More than three quarters of the reports upon which statements are based say none or very little old corn is on hand.

Corn Injured.

DIXON, Ill., Sept. 23.—Recent frosts have ruined the corn in this section, where half a crop was anticipated. Only soft corn fit for fodder will be gathered.

EASTERN FREIGHT SITUATION.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—General quietness in the freight market has been intensified by the advent of the equinoxial and as a consequence there has been but very little done at wharves of California clippers. However the storm was not wanting to increase the dullness, as the market as a whole is but little short of being superlatively dull, while the outlook is not very promising. Rates remain unchanged, although rather duller than otherwise. However, it is not known that there will be any material change either way during the remainder of this season. Tonnage for long voyage is still scarce, especially for available vessels, which are wanted for petroleum. California lines have all that they require for several weeks to come, and not at all anxious about the future. Isthmus freights are quiet. The steamer yesterday had for San Francisco 301 bbls resin, 841 kegs nails, 555 boxes tin, 682 bars iron, 1361 pieces [illegible]; also for China 458 bales sheeting. Railroad freights are very well to work with shipments of 203 pkgs tobacco, 641 cases canned goods, 275 cases nails, 30 boxes lemons, 130 boxes Valencia raisins, 32 cases prunes, 150 cases wine, 85 cases sardines, 50 cases petroleum, 500 cases lye, 435 kegs salt fish, 65 boxes candies, 125 boxes soap, 255 bags coffee, 24 cases dried fruit, and 220 kegs nails. No definite understanding in regard to the consolidation of freight offices, in this city, of roads west of the Missouri river, was arrived at at the meeting held a few days ago, and another meeting will be held next week. The scheme is to place the freighting department of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, the U. P. and the Texas Pacific roads under one management, and thus put an end to the competition of the various contracting agents. Who the new commissioner will be is a matter of surmise, and various are the names connected therewith.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The clipper freight market remains in much the same condition as noted the past four weeks, being very quiet with the tendency to dullness, from which there are no indications of any immediate improvement, unless perchance resumption of work in the iron region should be the means of making freight; but this is hardly probable inside of thirty days at least. Tonnage is still scarce, and all available vessels are readily taken for oil to the far east.

Freights at Philadelphia are quiet, but they are likely to be doing more now that work has been resumed in the iron district.

At Boston the clipper freight market is dull, and the [illegible] will go over until next month. Railroad freights from Boston have been active, with shipments of 1950 packages of fish, 53 cases canned goods, 191 cases leaf tobacco, 800 cases canned fish, 100 cases wine.

Freights for Portland are fairly active. The Harry Morse and Imperial are both loading, but neither will get off this month.
